

Destiny by Florian Tristan and the Garage Band

Waking up early,
Bathing in sunlight,
I'm tired as hell,
But it's alright.

Leaving now my home,
On my way,
To you to finally make,
You stay.

Refrain:

But you slip through my fingers like your wonderful hair,
Wherever you are now I'd rather be there.
Yeah you are my one and only destiny,
With you by my side there's nowhere I'd rather be.

Walking now fast I'm too late,
Don't know much but you are my faith.
Time goes fast now, you are gone,
Heaven must be the place where you are from.

Refrain:

But you slip through my fingers like your wonderful hair,
Wherever you are now I'd rather be there.
Yeah you are my one and only destiny,
With you by my side there's nowhere I'd rather be.

But you slip through my fingers like your wonderful hair,
Wherever you are now I'd rather be there.
Yeah you are my one and only destiny,
With you by my side there's nowhere I'd rather be.
